

Legal eagles can soar with new course

LAWYERS of the future can have a taste of the industry with a new course offering practical and innovative instruction from experienced lawyers.

Shine Lawyers managing partner Stephen Roche said the course was aimed at a broad base of people from school leavers to those already working in the sector.

“The course provides real-world experience of the law and the strategies and skills that are needed to be a successful litigator,” Mr Roche said.

“And if there are any shining stars in the courses then there is an opportunity for those people to be offered a position with Shine Lawyers.”

The six-day courses will be held in Toowoomba from January 18-25 and February 22-27.
