Rising legal stars sought

Shine Lawyers is searching for the next legal rising stars of Toowoomba.

Shine is offering a legal course aimed at school leavers with a passion for law to pinpoint these rising stars.

The six-day course, held during the June/July school holidays, is specifically designed for high school students who have an interest in pursuing a legal career.

Experienced lawyers and skilled educators will take students through a hands-on program which includes role playing a real-life legal case, goal setting techniques and Shine Lawyers career success stories.

Chief Executive Stephen Roche said the course provides students with a chance to get a leg up into a legal career and also provides Shine with the opportunity to discover local talent who will be the legal professionals of the future.

“We are looking for the next rising stars of Shine,” Mr Roche said.

“We invite all Toowoomba school leavers to attend the course and will also be offering financial assistance to applicants with special circumstances.”

Applications for the six-day course close on May 15. The live-in course is held at the Shine Centre for Learning in Toowoomba.
